OAMF has retained John Loughman to provide a comprehensive instructional course developed in accordance with the California State University Wastewater Treatment Program. With over 30 years of experience in the operation, maintenance, and troubleshooting of industrial wastewater treatment systems, he is a certified instructor for the "Treatment of Metal Wastestreams" Cal-State University coursework.

The course, exams, and instructors have been approved by the Northeast Ohio Regional Sewer District to provide the training and are recognized to meet NEORSD required facility operator training demands.

NEORSD supports this educational effort and recognizes this as an approved program for operator certification.**

Following the provided textbook, the course will be divided into three sections. After each section's classwork, students will take an exam and certification will be granted for passing grades of 70% higher. Exams will be graded by a certified Cal-State instructor. Participants must attend ALL classes and pass the exams to get a certification.

Who should attend?

- Anyone required by the NEORSD to have a certified waste treatment operator on staff.
- Anyone looking to operate pretreatment systems more efficiently.
- Business owners with companies operating a pretreatment system under permit guidelines.
- Wastewater treatment operators.
