Why join OAMF?

Advocacy that protects our future

A stronger Ohio voice in regulatory and legislative decisions affecting finishing operations.

Education built for finishing operations

Compliance seminars, wastewater training, technical programming and member discounts help your team stay current and prepared.

Networking that creates real value

Golf outings, dinner meetings, clambakes, Topgolf events, weekly calls and peer connections give members access to people who understand the business.

NASF Membership: National Strength for Ohio Finishers

NASF expands your OAMF membership value through advocacy, modern education and industry-wide connections.

SUR/FIN: Connecting the finishing industry

The NASF membership advantage

Advocacy

Critical now

PFAS-related litigation continues to expand nationwide, including matters involving manufacturers, finishers and suppliers. NASF advocacy helps ensure lawmakers and regulators hear the finishing industry voice.

Education

Tools you can use

Examples include Catalyst eLearning, live and on-demand webinars, digital textbooks, SUR/FIN classroom courses and exams, CEF/CAF certification pathways and Plating Essentials.

Networking

Connections that matter

National events, chapter activities, technical conferences, awards and peer-to-peer collaboration connect members to ideas, vendors and leaders across the supply chain.

Why advocacy matters now

As PFAS rules, litigation and liability questions evolve, membership gives Ohio finishers a coordinated voice and access to timely policy intelligence.
